mas-that is the task which the emen's Auxiliary Board of the New Polyclinic Hospital has set for And because the $5,000 will be of for the establishment of a free as a Christmas gift to poor women children, the Board asks the coration of more fortunate women in ing their needy sisters.

Christmae Day is two weeks from to-serrow. Something over $2,000 has al-sery been collected by the hard-work-

The hospital, which is at No. 341 West sted tenement district. There are hundreds of wives and mothers who are in need of medical treatment and carehe need of medical cannot be given them their dark and crowded flats. They in incapable of paying for hospital ac-here are many children, too, in this My, who are frequently in need of medical care. With no place but streets in which to play, small boys i girls are in daily danger of acci-it. Statistics show the enormous aber of children burt in street acci-ts. The Polyclinic Hospital is supposed to take eare of all ambulance cases between Fifty-ninth street and One Hundred and Tenth.

The yearly interest on the $5,000-$500-will maintain a free bed for women and children in perpetuity at the Polychinic Hospital. The Women's Auxiliary Board will use every dollar sent to them for the object for which they are working. The Board is composed of nearly one hundred women, many of them wives of the hospital physicians and surgeons, who are devoting their time and energy and all the money they can personally spare to the establishment of the free bed. Not a cent is expended in administration expenses, and there is no suite of offices or secretarial salary to keep up out of funds.

All contributions should be sent to Mrs. C. G. Kerley, President of the Women's Auxiliary Board, No. 121 West Eighty-first street.
